William H. U. Anderson did his Ph.D. in Biblical Studies and Theology in Postmodern Literary Critical Circles at the University of Glasgow in Scotland. Bill is a Professor of Pop Culture, Philosophy and Religion at Concordia University of Edmonton in Alberta, Canada. He is the author of Qoheleth and Its Pessimistic Theology: Hermeneutical Struggles in Wisdom Literature (1997) and Scepticism and Ironic Correlations in the Joy Statements of Qoheleth? (2010). He has worked interdisciplinarily throughout his academic career and this is his fifth edited volume with Vernon Press in the Philosophy of Religion Series. His next book with VP is Space, Philosophy and Ethics slated for 2024.

Anupama A. P. earned her Ph.D. in Film Studies in the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences from the National Institute of Technology in Tiruchirappalli, India. She was awarded a UNESCO research fellowship in connection with her Ph.D. in Film Studies. Her research interests include Film Studies, Space Studies, Semiotics, Spectatorship Studies and Cyberpunk. She has presented several research papers at various International Conferences and published papers and book chapters around the world. She is an Assistant Professor of English, at the School of Social Sciences and Humanities at VIT-AP University, Amaravati, Andhra Pradesh, India.

Dr. Michelle Chan did her Ph.D. in English at Royal Holloway, University of London. She is an Assistant Professor of English at Hong Kong Shue Yan University in Hong Kong. Her research focuses mainly on Children's Literature, Picture Book Narratives, Victorian Literature and Fantasy Literature.

Tara Etherington achieved her Ph.D. in English at the University of Exeter, U.K., specializing in cultural reading practices of Japanese manga. Tara is the Executive Director, Centre for Entrepreneurship at the University of Toronto in Canada. Her primary research and teaching interests include Cultural Studies, Visual Culture, and Hybridity as a literary method of social critique. Her current research focuses on the uses of hybridity in manga to question prevailing social and cultural discourses on gender, sexuality and identity that transcend Japanese readerships.

Steven Foertsch is a doctoral candidate in the Sociology of Religion program at Baylor University and a research assistant at the Institute for Studies of Religion (ISR). His research focuses on ideology and the intersection between Politics and Religion, Deviance, Social and Political Philosophy, and New Age groups.

Kaz Hayashi did his Ph.D. in Old Testament at Baylor University. He is an Associate Professor of Old Testament at Bethel University in St. Paul, Minnesota, USA. He has a passion for biblical archaeology and historiography and has been on several digs in Israel. Kaz was born and raised in Japan and has a passion for anime.
